Rezin Orthopedics MRI Earns American College of Radiology's Top Accreditation

Morris, IL - Deerpath MRI at Rezin Orthopedics and Sports Medicine has been awarded a three-year term of accreditation in magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) as the result of an extensive review by the American College of Radiology (ACR). MRI is a noninvasive medical test that utilizes magnetic fields to produce images of internal body parts, including the spine, knee, shoulder, hip and other joints to help physicians diagnose and treat a wide range of medical conditions.

The American College of Radiology Gold Seal of Accreditation, earned by Deerpath MRI, is given only to facilities with the highest level of image quality and patient safety. To earn this accreditation, Deerpath MRI was evaluated by a group of board-certified physicians who are experts in the field of MRI imaging. These experts assessed the image quality, personnel qualifications, facility equipment, quality control procedures, and quality assurance programs of Deerpath MRI against the strict ACR Practice Guidelines and Technical Standards. The expert's findings were reported to the ACR Committee on Accreditation, which subsequently found that Deerpath MRI met all of the testing criteria.

"The entire MRI team takes great pride in knowing that their dedication to providing excellent patient care has been recognized by such a prestigious organization as ACR," said Erica Barla, Deerpath MRI Manager. "As a group, we really focus on getting our patients out quickly and comfortably, all while maintain the highest level of quality."
